

Timeline

- 2187 CE: The colony ship Stellar Horizon departs Earth, bound for Kepler-442b, carrying a mixed African and Asian crew in cryogenic stasis.
- Mid-2200s CE: During the voyage, a solar storm causes critical damage to navigation systems, leaving the ship adrift in space.
- ~2250 CE (Cycle 0): The Stellar Horizon emergency systems revive the passengers near an unknown star system. With life support failing, the crew redirects the ship to a tidally locked planet, later named Duskara.
- ~2300 CE (Cycle 562): Initial settlement begins in the habitable twilight zone of Duskara. Early struggles focus on adapting to the hostile environment, resource scarcity, and the extreme conditions of the day and night sides.
- ~2350 CE (Cycle 1,124): Settlements stabilize along the 200-300 km-wide twilight band, forming linear cities. A reliance on geothermal and wind energy begins to take root as foundational technology.
- 2400s CE (Cycle 1,686): Genetic and environmental adaptations to Duskara's radiation emerge, including latent psychic abilities such as weather working and thermal sensing. These abilities gradually become integral to survival and culture.
- 2500s CE (Cycle 2,810): The concept of "The Awakening" solidifies, recognizing the psychic abilities among Duskarans as both practical tools and spiritual gifts. Weatherworking guilds and other specialized roles are institutionalized.
- 2800s CE (Cycle 6,182): The societal structures of the twilight belt cities and night-side cave settlements diverge significantly. The Deep Roads, tunnel networks begun by early settlers but abandoned during the consolidation period, are rediscovered and expanded for trade and communication.
- 2900 CE (Cycle 7,306): The Duskaran Accord is established to manage inter-settlement relations, resource distribution, and defense against environmental hazards. This confederation solidifies cooperation across the twilight belt and cave settlements.
- 3000 CE (Cycle 8,430): Present Day. Eight centuries after landfall, Duskaran society is a blend of ancestral Earth traditions and unique adaptations. Psychic abilities, resource scarcity, and environmental challenges continue to shape cultural and technological innovations. The mysteries of Duskara, including its ancient structures and unexplained phenomena, remain central to exploration and survival efforts.
