1. Field Log

Windcaller Log #\044 — Aetherion Outskirts Sky Pressure: Rising Aurora Strength: Low

Observed anomaly at the Echo Pool. Sigils matched those seen during the Breach incident.
Possible resonance with Subject [REDACTED]. Further testing required.

Closing note: I heard your voice. It said my name.
— R.

2. Letter

To the one who still listens,

I walked the same ridge again today. The trees haven't grown back.
The air tastes like salt and forgetting.

You left something here. A silence shaped like you.

I've carried it long enough.

— Veyna

3. Ritual Fragment

Binding of the Fourth Breath — Fragment only [Line 1 missing] ...and then the chime is struck thrice, with breath held on the second tone. The name must be written in salt. Not spoken. Never again. Burn the map. It remembers too well.

Dream #17

The floodplain glowed like glass. You were kneeling in the ruins, writing symbols on your palms.

When I called your name, you looked at me with someone else's eyes.

The wind laughed.

Then it started to rain inside the room.

Duskara: Echoes in the Wind
A game about what persists when everything else is gone.

Wind remembers. So do you.
